

A photograph of a road curving to the right. The road is paved and has white lane markings, including a dashed line on the left and a solid line on the right. A concrete barrier runs along the left side of the road. In the background, there are some buildings and utility poles. A white box with the number '1' is positioned in the upper center of the image.

1

A photograph of the same road scene as above, but from a lower perspective, showing the hood of a car in the foreground. The car's hood has some markings on it. A white box with the number '2' is positioned in the lower center of the image.

2